TWO NEW RECORDS BY THE WON-DERFUL PACING STALLION.

The King of Marness Horses Covers a Quarter Mile in US Seconds and a Mair Mile in 55 S-4 Seconds—The Mile is Travelled in 2:00 1-3 A Great Performance by Joe Patchen.

TERRE HAUTE, Sept. 28.-This was the opening day of the seventeenth annual fall meeting of the Terre Haute Trotting Association. The special features were Star Pointer's attempt to beat his record of 1:594, an exhibition mile by Joe Patchen, and a 2:18 pace for a purse of 85 000. Owner Murphy believed his horse would lower his record. He had invented a new bit which he thought would not bear so heavily on the ulcerated teeth, and thereby avoid bad beeaks such as caused Pointer to lose the race Patchen at Milwaukee last week. Driver McClary went away so slow that few persons expected to see him nod for the word. There was a strong wind from the east, too, which he had to face in the first quarter, which was covered in 31 4 seconds. When this time was displayed there was little hope left for a two-min ute mile. The half was done in 1:01%, with

At the half the runner, Abs Lincoln, who same track five years ago to-day, gave way to a turn into the third quarter Pointer was going as quarter was in 28 seconds, a 1:52 gait. Moas he had been doing from the start, and the wire was reached in 2:001s, tieing John R. Gentry's record. The third quarter was the onds is the fastest half-mile record. Horsemen ands, but never before saw a horse step it.

Within a few minutes Joe Patchen was brought out. John Dickerson was behind him, and Maleney drove the runner. After the performance Owner Marks was angry, because neither Maloney nor Dickerson carried a watch to rate the mile. Patchen was going faster than Peinter at the start, but was somewhat unsteady. The quarter was covered in 0:314, half in 1:02, three-quarters in 1:31, and the mile in in 1:02, three-guarters in 1:31, and the mile in 2:014, lewering his previous record.

The 2:18 pace for $5.000 was the exciting struggle of the regular programme. Parker S. raced himself out in the first four heats, and then Sally Toler, who at one-stage lost prestige, won easily. In the 2:28 trot, Pearline C., with a record of 2:244, won the first heat in 2:124, thereby letting out a secret of the harness raced of 2:24 won the first heat in 2:124, thereby letting out a secret of the harness raced congrampaign. Good judges have always suspected that she had the speed. After another heat the race was postponed until to-morrow. Bostox, Sept. 28 .- It was easy money for the winners at the New England Breeders' meeting to-day at the Readville track. Throughout the day the number of starters was small and several rich stakes ses were on the card to start, the Village Farm's Valence and the Fleetwood horse Chester Fred Noble was two distances out the first heat. The judges were not satisfied with the driving and Titer replaced Hobie. Chester went several seconds better, but could not win. Nobie was fined $100. There was a hearing yesterday before Justice Garretson in the Supreme Court at Brooklyn in the action of John Nixon to restrain the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association and the Brooklyn Jockey Club from refusing to enter his horse Lion Heart for fixon, according to his counsel, was sent for by the officers of the association and asked to explain the "running in and out" of his horse, and that he told them that Lion Heart had won seven of the ten races in which he was entered since May, and that "circumstances, the weather, and the 170 pounds weight" he had to carry accounted for his three defeats.

Counsel for the piaintiff sai: that he understood the horse had been soid to President Dwyer of the Brooklyn Jockey Chib, but in the absence of his client, who is at Chicaco, he was mable to say whether such was really the fact. If it was true that the horse belonged to Mr. Dwyer then he would, of course, have no further interest in the proceeding. Counsel for the association said that Prisident Dwyer had bought the steeplechaser. The matrix he further said, was an important one, involving the question whether the Association had the right to make rules, controlling the Association throughout the country, smithed with it. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. RACING BOARD CRITICISED FOR ITS

LENIENCY TO RECKER. The Man Who Assaulted "Major" Taylor, the Colored Sider, on the Track Escapes with a Light Pine-Siight Increase in L. A. W. Membership-Sime of Washington Suspended

The action of the Racing Board of the L. A. W. in imposing a fine of $50 on W. E. Becker, the professional rider, for assaulting "Major" Taylor at Taunton last week, is considered a very mild reprimand. Becker, when called upon to explain the assault, submitted a statement that Taylor deliberately fouled him on coming into the homestretch. This excuse the board accepted, but, believing that the assault was unwarranted, decided to fin Becker for his puglistic display. The latter was suspended on Saturday, and notified that until he paid up he would be debarred from riding on L. A. W. tracks, Becker settled at Trenton on Monday, and is accordingly again in good racing standing. The Racing Board was severely criticised yesterday by riders and riding patrons for imposing such light penalty upon Becker. It is a well-known fact that intense rivalry exists among the leading professional riders, and some of the men, it Hives.

Saddle Horses and Ponies under saddle—F. C. Hol. is believed, would gladly sacrifice $50 in order time and Morton W. Smith.

The membership returns of the L. A. W. did not come up to the expectations of the officials of the leading divisions the past week. HARVARD'S ROWING POLICY.

Races, If Necessary. Bob Cook and Payne Whitney, captain of the Yale 'varsity crew, visited Cambridge the other day ostensibly to order some new boats. It is said that they also conferred with several Harvard boating men in regard to arrangements for a race next year, but were asked to await the arrival of Coach Lehmann, who is expected here from England in a few days. Enough was said, though, so certain college men say, to convince the Yale representatives that Harvard is still loyal to Cornell. Speaking of the matter yester-

"H rvard will do all in her power to have Yale admit Cornell to another big 'varsity race next year. There is a general desire at Cambridge to have Lehmann's methods of coaching and training tested once more in a contest similar to the one last June at Poughkeepsie. Leh-lar to the one last June at Poughkeepsie. Lehmann, too, is reported to be anxious for another brush with Cornell and Yale, and will advocate a three-cornered race when he arrives.

"Yale, however, is not anxious to meet Cornell again, and is particularly desirous of establishing the old-time dual contests with Harvard on the Thames at New London. If Harvard insists upon a triangular race, with Cornell as the third crew, it will be interesting to watch Yale's policy. But it is more than probable that Harvard will not act the part of a dictator, and in case of a refusal on the part of Yale to meet Cornell, the Cambridge men will agree to row two varsity races, both at New London, the first one to be with Cornell and the second with Yale two weeks later. Two freshman races will also be rowed by Harvard under the above conditions.

"As Cornell is almost certain to row Harvard."

will also be rowed by Harvard under the above conditions.

"As Cornell is almost certain to row Harvard alone at New London, if Yale makes such a race compulsory, it will be of interest to know what will become of the Cornell-Pennsylvania-Columbia races. Possibly Pennsylvania and Columbia may flock by themselves, but if either is particularly anxious to row Cornell, a second varsity race will be rowed by the Ithacans on the Thames. If Yale admits Cornell the big race will be rowed at Poughkeepsie, as the course at New London is not wide enough. But if the New Haven men have their way New London will be the scene of two if not more big 'varsity races next year."
